

The LORD's Prayer

Hallowed be Thy Name

Day 1: Hallowed Be Thy Name

Reading: Psalm 99:1-9

As we begin this journey, let's reflect on the holiness of God. The sermon emphasized how "hallowed be thy name" sets God apart as holy and unique. Today's psalm beautifully illustrates God's majesty and holiness. As you read, consider how God's holiness impacts your daily life. How can you cultivate a sense of reverence for God in your routine? Remember, acknowledging God's holiness isn't about fear, but about recognizing His perfection and love. Take a moment to praise God for His holiness and ask Him to help you live a life that reflects His character.

Day 2: Called to Be Holy

Reading: 1 Peter 1:13-16

Yesterday we focused on God's holiness; today we turn to our call to be holy. The sermon reminded us that as God's people, we are set apart. This doesn't mean perfection, but rather living with intention and love. As you read today's passage, reflect on what it means to be "holy in all your conduct." How can you make choices today that set you apart as God's child? Remember, holiness isn't about rigid rules, but about letting God's love shine through you. Ask God to show you one specific way you can live out your calling to holiness today.

Day 3: Love as the Foundation

Reading: 1 Corinthians 13:1-13

The sermon emphasized that our holiness stems from love, not obligation. Today's famous passage beautifully describes the centrality of love in the Christian life. As you read, consider how love motivates your actions. Are there areas in your life where you're acting out of duty rather than love? How might your relationships or service change if love was truly at the center? Take time to thank God for His perfect love and ask Him to help you love others more fully, even when it's challenging.

Day 4: Grace in Our Imperfection

Reading: Romans 5:1-8

We heard in the sermon that God understands our imperfections and offers grace. Today's reading reminds us of the incredible gift of God's grace through Christ. As you reflect, consider areas where you struggle with perfectionism or feel you've fallen short. How does God's grace speak to those places? Remember, our holiness isn't about flawless performance, but about being set apart by God's love and covered by His grace. Thank God for His undeserved favor and ask Him to help you extend that same grace to others and yourself.

Day 5: Living as God's Holy People

Reading: Colossians 3:12-17

We conclude our week by considering how to live out our identity as God's holy, chosen people. The sermon challenged us to live differently because of God's love. Today's passage gives practical guidance for holy living. As you read, identify one specific characteristic or action you feel called to focus on. How can you intentionally practice compassion, kindness, humility, or thankfulness today? Remember, these qualities flow from our relationship with God. Pray for the Holy Spirit's empowerment to live as a visible reflection of God's love in the world.
