WHAT COULD HAPPEN IN THREE WEEKS?

JANUARY 25, 2025

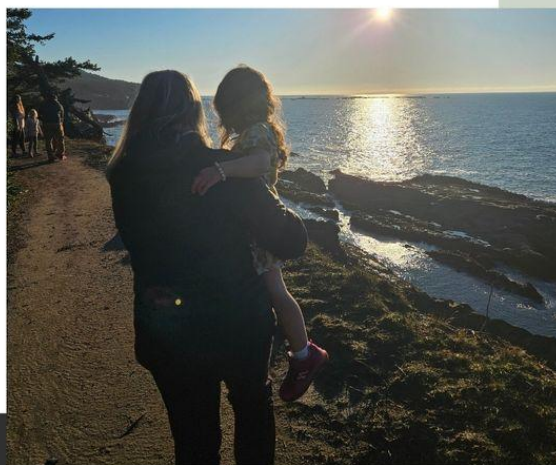

Adding those with the current amount of partners giving monthly, I am only $424 a month away from being able to return to Greece.

Because it is the Digital Nomad visa that requires me to have this set salary, I must have two pay periods worth of evidence in my account before I can apply for the visa.

Then I'll print out those two months of bank statements, and add them to my folder of documents that come with me

I have been working toward returning to the field now for the last 8 months. Seeking out new connections and ministry partners, raising the support necessary for my visa in order to continue working in Athens. God has continued to prove Himself steady in that time. He has been allowing me peace in the discomfort of unknowns and closed doors, and bringing about the people He has; believer or not; to serve as the support of this ministry. Another way God has provided is through one-time gifts that have been able to be added up and split into 24 months of support.

to the Greek consulate in San Francisco to be looked over by the kind visa officer who, Lord-willing, takes all of that and gives my passport back with a shiny new visa page near the back.

There is the possibility that I will be allowed by GEM leadership to go to Greece while waiting for those two pay periods, to reconnect with the ministries I will be partnering with in Athens.

This would allow me to be in the field sooner, but with the knowledge that I would briefly return to the States for my visa appointment in San Fran before flying back to Greece long term.

Those two pay periods in mind, I must raise that final $424 a month by February 15th in order for February to be the first of the two. Which gives me exactly three weeks from today. That timeline, though daunting, is not impossible. Think of it this way: If 9 people decided to give $50 a month, that's all of it right there!

I would implore you to pray about joining my team. If you've ever thought about giving monthly or even a one-time donation, let now be the time.

Please be praying with me these next few weeks as I work toward that goal, that the Lord would move in the hearts of those He wants me to partner with, and give them a sense of urgency to help get me where I need to be.

BLESS YOU FRIENDS,

To my current ministry partners,
Thank you so much for your steadfast prayers and support. It isn't lost on me that this time of uncertainty has affected not just myself or my team but you as well, and I'm forever grateful that you're still here and allowing me to move forward and answer the Lord's call to sharing the Gospel in Greece. Your commitment is a sacrifice and blesses me more than you know.
