Mission & Outreach Update: Standing With Our Immigrant Neighbors

In the wake of recent Customs and Border Patrol activity in Charlotte, Covenant elders and staff have prayerfully worked to discern faithful next steps. Guided by Scripture's persistent drumbeat—welcome the stranger, for you were once a stranger—we are focusing our energy on the work that protects the most vulnerable and strengthens our shared community. Visit covenantpresby.org/neighbors for information.

A Service for Lament and Longing

Sunday, November 23, 4:00 p.m.; front lawn of Amity Presbyterian Church

We gather in love and solidarity—standing alongside those in our city who have been affected by last week's ICE raids. This service is being organized in partnership with ministers across the Charlotte area.

Together, we will lift our prayers, share our longing for peace, and bear witness to God's compassion in the midst of hurt and uncertainty. This will be a peaceful, outdoor gathering. Please bring a lawn chair.

All are welcome. May our presence be a sign of comfort, courage, and God's abiding love.

Pick up Advent Devotions

This advent season, we encourage you to puncture each day with a moment of looking for hope, a conscious paying attention to the details of life gifted by God, a holy moment of wondering and searching for glimpses of God. Throughout the advent devotion, you will find stories of faithful waiting, of searching for peace in tension, of looking for hope despite the circumstances, and of joy peeking through it all. Sign up to receive the devotions emailed to your inbox each day by writing "Advent" on your WRC or pick up a paper copy of the devotional at church beginning today.

Centered around our Advent theme, "A Thrill of Hope: Discerning God in the World," we will listen in on meaningful conversations exploring how God's quiet, healing work often unfolds through tenderness and attentive presence. No reading or preparation needed.
