Empowering Minds, Transforming Futures

About the Conference

Today's teens are facing more pressure, isolation, and mental health challenges than any generation before them. The MindShift is designed to change that. This one-day experience equips students (8th-12th grade) and their parents with real tools, support, and hope.

With a keynote from Greg Ellis, former Dallas Cowboys defensive end and mental health advocate, hands-on workshops, honest conversations, and interactive breakout sessions, MindShift helps teens build confidence, resilience, and practical coping skills.

Why Sponsor?

With your sponsorship, you're investing directly in the mental health of young people and the families who support them — while gaining meaningful visibility in our community.

Your sponsorship will:

- Support youth mental health education and awareness.
- Connect your organization with a cause that impacts families and communities.
- Provide direct engagement with youth, parents, and mental health professionals.
- Offer visibility across multiple marketing channels before, during, and after the event.
